CEREMONIES OF REMEMBRANCE

Participant Agreement | Recording • Privacy • Media Use

This agreement is between Jenn LeFevre, doing business as Return to Wisdom ("RTW," "we," or "us") and the participant signing below ("you"). Please read it before joining a ceremony. You may ask questions before signing.

1. What You Are Joining

Ceremonies of Remembrance are live online gatherings that may include guided meditation, ancestral remembrance, intuitive exercises, discussion, and shared reflection. Sessions currently take place every other Saturday from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Eastern. Access to member-only recordings, recaps, and the private community is limited to active members.

The current Ceremonies membership is $50 per month, recurring until canceled. The price, billing date, renewal, cancellation, and refund terms presented at checkout and in RTW's published policies also apply. Purchasing a membership does not guarantee a particular spiritual experience or outcome.

2. Your Consent to Recording

All Ceremonies of Remembrance sessions are recorded in audio and video. A recording may include your face, voice, name or display name, words, chat messages, personal stories, reactions, and anything you choose to share or show on screen. Sessions may also be transcribed.

By signing, you expressly consent to being recorded and to the uses described below. You agree not to bring anyone into your camera or microphone range who has not consented. We may ask you to confirm your permission again when a session begins. If you do not consent to recording, you must not join the session.

3. Use of Recordings, Voice, Image, and Statements

RTW may keep, edit, excerpt, caption, transcribe, organize, archive, and share ceremony recordings and contributions. They may be used for members-only materials, education, documentaries, books, podcasts, websites, social media, promotions, advertising, and other lawful commercial uses, including works that RTW sells or licenses. These uses may include your name, likeness, voice, appearance, statements, and contributions.

RTW may use only a first name, remove identifying details, or blur a face or alter a voice when appropriate, but anonymity is not promised unless RTW separately agrees to it in writing. RTW will not knowingly edit a recording to falsely make you appear to have said or done something you did not say or do. You will not receive a separate payment or have a right to approve edits or publications for uses you authorize here.

4. Ownership of Teachings and Your Contributions

Jenn LeFevre and RTW retain ownership of their original teachings, written materials, class structures, recordings, edits, graphics, books, courses, reports, and other original work. Your membership gives you personal access to authorized materials; it does not give you permission to copy, resell, or distribute them.

You keep ownership of your personal experiences, general ideas, beliefs, and material created independently of RTW. For original words, images, writings, performances, or other contributions you voluntarily create specifically for a ceremony, you assign to RTW the rights you own in those contributions as they appear in or were made for the recording. Where a right cannot be assigned, you grant RTW a perpetual, worldwide, royalty-free, transferable license to use that contribution with the recording and related works, including promotion and commercial distribution. Any separate pre-existing work you voluntarily show or share is licensed only in connection with that recording or related work.

5. Respect and Confidentiality in the Group

A ceremony may involve grief, family history, relationships, health, and other sensitive subjects. You decide what to share. Please do not disclose passwords, financial account details, private medical records, or confidential information belonging to others.

You may not record, photograph, screenshot, repost, distribute, quote publicly, or identify another participant from a nonpublic session without RTW's written permission and, where applicable, that person's permission. Do not share private member links, recordings, or materials with people outside the group. Although RTW takes reasonable care with private information, confidentiality in an online group cannot be guaranteed.

6. Storage, Technology, and Privacy

RTW may use secure hosting, Zoom, transcription, editing, and other service providers to manage recordings, recaps, and membership records. Some tools may include AI-assisted transcription or editing. Those tools do not give RTW permission to create a deceptive imitation of your statements.

We may retain recordings and related materials for archival, educational, operational, or commercial use as allowed by law. Recordings may continue to exist after your membership ends. No online system can guarantee absolute privacy or security.

7. Spiritual and Educational Nature of the Ceremonies

RTW's ceremonies, intuitive guidance, and exercises are spiritual and educational. They do not replace medical care, mental-health treatment, crisis services, legal advice, or financial advice. RTW does not guarantee the accuracy of intuitive impressions, predictions, spiritual interpretations, or a particular result. You remain responsible for your own choices and for seeking professional help when needed.

8. Participation, Ending Membership, and Existing Recordings

You must be at least 18 years old and able to enter this agreement. Joining is voluntary. You may decline a question, leave a session, or cancel future membership according to the plan terms. RTW may remove someone for harassment, unauthorized recording or sharing, disruption, nonpayment, or safety concerns.

Stopping participation or canceling the subscription ends future access as provided by your plan; it does not undo permission already granted for sessions recorded while you participated. This agreement covers ceremonies you join after signing. It does not automatically authorize use of any older recordings created before your consent.

9. Responsibility and Disputes

You participate knowing that spiritual conversation and group reflection can sometimes be emotionally difficult. To the extent allowed by law, RTW is not liable for losses caused by the ordinary risks of participation or for decisions made in reliance on spiritual or educational content. This does not limit any responsibility that the law does not permit RTW to exclude, including fraud or intentional misconduct.

If a disagreement arises, please contact RTW first so we can try to resolve it directly. New York law generally governs this agreement, subject to applicable nonwaivable law. The complete agreement includes any applicable checkout terms and published membership policies.

10. Electronic Agreement

Typing your legal name, checking the agreement boxes, or adding an electronic signature with the intention to agree counts as your signature to the extent allowed by law. RTW may keep an electronic copy of your agreement, signature, date, and any available audit record. We may also request verbal confirmation before a session starts.

YOUR ACKNOWLEDGMENT

At checkout, you must read and individually acknowledge each statement below before you can proceed to payment. Your typed legal name and acceptance serve as your electronic signature.

- ☐ I am at least 18 and understand that Ceremonies of Remembrance are spiritual and educational gatherings.
- ☐ I expressly agree to audio and video recording of every ceremony I attend.
- ☐ I understand RTW may use my name, face, voice, statements, and recorded contributions in members-only materials and in public or commercial works, as described above.
- ☐ I agree not to record, share, or publicly identify other participants or private ceremony materials without permission.
- ☐ I understand the $50 monthly membership renews until canceled, subject to the terms shown at checkout.
